Father Charles Brandt

Hermit monk to address CV Unitarians

The Comox Valley Unitarian Fellowship will meet on Sunday, Oct. 27 at 10:30 a.m. in the CRA meeting room to hear an address by Father Charles Brandt.

Father Brandt lives as a hermit monk on Oyster River where he earns his living as a professional book and paper conservator. He also teaches a course in curatorial care of paper at the University of Victoria.

He is a keen fly fisherman and birder and has been honored with awards for his environmental work.

He will speak this Sunday on the necessity of bringing the human community into a greater presence of the natural world in a mutually enhancing way if we are to have a meaningful sustainable future, and will discuss helpful ways to establish this human-earth relationship.

The title of his talk is "The Hidden Heart of the Cosmos."
